As decisions in the consulting process need to be fast and reliable, market proximity counts – “maconda goes Dutch”

maconda News January 2026

maconda intensifies its presence in the Netherlands. The focus lies on supporting Dutch consulting clients and conducting Commercial Due Diligences in the Dutch market. To facilitate this, maconda is opening an office in the heart of Amsterdam and is systematically expanding its local network of M&A advisors and investors.

“maconda goes Dutch” – this is the internal working title for the Cologne-based consulting specialists’ latest expansion. To ensure a smooth rollout, the existing network in the Netherlands is being further strengthened, and consultants will be available on-site at the corner of Vijzelstraat and Keizersgracht in Amsterdam.

The primary objective is to support Dutch companies – especially private equity investors and their portfolio companies – in entering the German-speaking region. This includes Commercial Due Diligences, implementation-oriented go-to-market projects, and identifying suitable targets for buy & build strategies. Furthermore, the move allows maconda to gain an even deeper grasp of the Dutch market, providing more robust analysis for due diligence and strategy projects involving companies based in the DACH region.

With a steadily growing network of top local consultants, maconda delivers fast, flexible, and excellent support exactly when it is needed most.
